WHAT DO YOU NEED FOR HOME WORKOUT?

An appropriate shoes to give support to your balance and as a cushion to absorb extra impact whilst jumping to protect your bones and joints.

This is important for your safety.

A mat. This is particularly important for your safety and hygiene. The mat may be needed whenever you're doing exercises on the floor. It will give you comfort and support within your back.

A set of dumbbells (approximately weights between 2-5kg, depends on your ability to lift) Choose a dumbbell that suits your stamina level. You can add on weight whenever you don't feel the effect during or after the workout.

Make sure you have a water bottle and a towel near you. Always stay hydrated. Whenever you are short breathed, STOP, inhale, exhale and join me whenever you're ready.

Drink 1 litre of water for every 22 kg of body weight.
TIP: DRINK 1.5 Lt BEFORE LUNCH & 1.5 Lt THERE AFTER

OPTION TO TRY.

This is just an idea to give you more challenge on your workouts.

Example, instead of use dumbbells, use barbell and increase the weight.

Instead of jump on the floor, use step to increase your legs workout.

Tips to keep motivated

Challenge your body & mind

Do some activities that make you to enjoy with the moves. Learn new move and try to improve the move that fascinated you. Choose one move that you hate the most! Try to get out of your comfort zone.

Get your body move

Running, swimming, dancing or doing any other type of cardiovascular activity has been proven to help you to stay in positive mind. Raising your heart rate helps blood flowing to your whole body. It'll help you maintain and increase your mental acuity.

Get a quality sleep!

Sleep is also known to enhance your memory and help you practice and improve your performance of challenging skills. Get a consistent 7 to 9 hours of sleep every day. And yes, Naps count!

Avoid, all screens (TV, phone) for a t least an hour before bed.

Let's your family to get involved

Share your new experience, information, knowledge and interest with them!

You'll find that with sharing all these will make you feel a lot better and excited.

I believe that most of us are busy with house chores, it's a never-ending task. As for me, I always start my fitness routine with main house chores before starting my formal exercise routines. It can be considered as my warmup or active recovery day apart from morning walk, treadmills or skipping. Performing house chores is reportedly to burn more than 90 calories in 15 minutes (National Institute of Health). Try to include some dynamic stretches to wake up your muscles.

13 HOUSEHOLD CHORES THAT BURN MAJOR CALORIES (7 OF THEM BURN MORE THAN A 5K RUN!!)

1. Mopping & Sweeping the floor

156 Calories / Hour

Sweeping or mopping those dusty, dirty floors is a great upper and lower body workout. This effective and highly productive workout burns 156 Calories an hour and you get a sparkling clean floor when you are done! If your floors are particularly dirty and need a little more elbow grease (scrubbing on hands and knees kind of work), then Yay! It's time to celebrate -because you can shed as many as 187 calories in the next 30 minutes!

2. Cleaning the Bathroom

360 Calories / Hour

We all know that we need to give those tiles, tub, shower screen and washbasin a good, long overdue scrub to remove that icky soap scum. That little boost of extra energy won't go unrewarded. In 15 minutes, you'll burn more than 90 calories—and you will work out those wobbly underarm bits and give the boobs a little boost too!

3. Vacuuming

170 Calories / Hour

I actually love Vacuuming. Maybe that's a little weird, but as chores go – this is one of my favorites. It gives a good effect for minimal effort and now I find out it burns 170 Calories an hour? Wow! I might just start vacuuming twice a day! My house collects a LOT of dirt. I think it's up there in the red zone if you had to graph it compared to other homes.

4. Cleaning the Windows

140 – 300 Calories / Hour

Experts don't seem to agree on this one. Some say that you will burn around 300 Calories an hour, while others say you are looking at more around the 140 Calories an hour. Big difference! I think it's got a lot to do with technique. If you are doing a little spray and wipe job, you could be looking at the 140 Calories an hour but if you working up a sweat scrubbing that window grime, I think you can claim your full 300 Calories for the hour.

5. Decluttering / Cleaning the Closet

85 Calories / Hour

Packing away the seasonal gear or cleaning out the kitchen cupboard may not work up too much of a sweat, but even this will declutter your home and can burn about 85 calories in the hour.

6. Mowing the Lawn.

325 Calories / Hour

Burn some Calories and save money and forget about hiring a Gardener. Tackle the lawn care on your own. Use a manual or push mower for maximum calorie burn. Expect to burn about 325 calories per hour.

7. Cooking Dinner

150 Calories / Hour

Work up a sweat in the kitchen. Standing, preparing food and cooking will burn about 150 calories per hour.

8. Shovelling Snow.

415 Calories / Hour

Ok, this isn't much of a surprise. But this maximum burn, heart-pumping Winter exercise burns about 415 calories per hour. Remember how that 5K run only burns 228 Calories? Hmmm. Too much too soon? Maybe get the husband or teenage son to do this one.

9. Light Gardening

250 Calories / Hour

I'm talking about the fun stuff here. Pottering in the veggie garden, planting some seedlings or a little bit of weeding will help you burn calories and a gorgeous garden at the same time! You'll burn about 250 calories per hour. Plus you get to enjoy the added bonus of fresh homegrown vegetables, which will benefit your wallet and your waistline.

10. Painting

290 Calories / Hour

Need a reason to give the kitchen a makeover? Painting is an excellent way to work your leg and arm muscles while building lean muscle mass at the same time. You get a freshly painted deck or room and you'll burn about 290 calories per hour.

11. Moving House or Rearranging the Furniture

400 Calories / Hour

Now you have reason to dust under the couch! Moving furniture around can burn another 100 calories in just 15 minutes, and even more if you have to move anything up and down stairs!

12. Talking on the Phone

90 Calories / Hour

Ok, there is a teeny tiny catch here. You need to be walking and talking to claim the full Calories credits. Talking on the phone while walking around the house will burn a surprising 90 Calories in an hour.

13. Styling your Hair

190 Calories / hour

We know this one burns! Holding your arms up to blow dry, straighten & style your hair for 35 minutes will burn off 100 calories!

Tasbih Fatimah

The beloved daughter of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), Fatimah, used to do all the housework by herself. She even went to fetch water from the well and carried it on her shoulders so that marks would stay on her skin.

Another narration about Fatimah tells us about how the mill to grind flour caused pain in her hand. That is why she wanted to ask her father, our beloved Prophet, for a servant from the prisoners of war.

However, when the Prophet came to his daughter, he told her that he would give her something much better than what she had asked for. So, he taught her to recite praises to Allah (SubhanaAllah) 33 times, express gratitude (Alhamdulillah) 33 times and recite Allah Akbar 34 times before going to sleep.

When we do our housework, we can remember this Hadith about Fatimah and make dua to Allah to grant us the beautiful characteristic of Fatimah, who was one of the four women to achieve the highest rank in Paradise.

Watch Your Heart Rate

What is Max heart rate?

Maximum heart rate is the maximum number of beats made by your heart in 1 minute of effort. When walking quickly, you will be in an endurance zone, with a heart rate of between 60% and 75% of your maximum heart rate (MHR). Knowing your rate means listening to your body.

Formula:

$$220 - \text{your age} = \text{maxHR}$$

Let's say that you are a 35-year-old woman. Your maximum heart rate will be 185 beats per minute.

In order to remain in the endurance zone, between 60 and 75% of your MHR, the number of beats of your heart during the session will be between 111 and 139 ($185 \times 60\% = 111$, $185 \times 75\% = 139$).

MEDICALNEWS TODAY

Fat Burning Heart Rate

Age	Target Heart Rate 50–85%	Maximum Heart Rate 100%
20 years	100–170 bpm	200 bpm
30 years	95–162 bpm	190 bpm
35 years	93–157 bpm	185 bpm
40 years	90–153 bpm	180 bpm
45 years	88–149 bpm	175 bpm
50 years	85–145 bpm	170 bpm
55 years	83–140 bpm	165 bpm
60 years	80–136 bpm	160 bpm
65 years	78–132 bpm	155 bpm
70 years	75–128 bpm	150 bpm

bpm = beats per minute

Hit the Target: Find Your Heart Rate

Now that you have a target, you can monitor your heart rate to make sure you're in the zone. As you exercise, periodically check your heart rate. A wearable activity tracker makes it super easy, but if you don't use one you can also find it manually:

Take your pulse on the inside of your wrist, on the thumb side.

Use the tips of your first two fingers (not your thumb) and press lightly over the artery.

Count your pulse for 30 seconds and multiply by 2 to find your beats per minute.

THE BENEFITS TO ACHIEVE YOUR MAX HEART RATE

- Boost up your metabolism
- Effective calories burner
- Effective fat burning
- Boost up immunity system
- Weight loss management
- Renew muscles
- Improves overall health
- Strong & healthy heart muscles

Cool Down & Stretching

COOL DOWN & STRETCHING

COOL DOWN

Cool down is a 5-10 minutes with low intensity activity like slow walking. It helps your heart rate and breathing to return towards resting levels gradually. It will also help avoid fainting or dizziness, which can result from blood pooling in the large muscles of the legs when vigorous activity is stopped suddenly helps to remove waste products from your muscles, such as lactic acid, which can build up during vigorous activity (lactic acid is most effectively removed by gentle exercise rather than stopping suddenly) and helps to prepare your muscles for the next exercise session. Static stretching for 10 minutes or so is a great way to relax and improve flexibility.

At the end of each workout, hold each of the recommended stretch positions for 20-30 seconds. Always remember to stretch both sides of your body. Make it even time for each part of your body to stretch and relax.

RECOVERY

Your body is so AMAZING and will be doing some INCREDIBLE things over the next 2-Weeks but it also needs time to rest. Make sure you take the time to stretch out your muscles after your workouts.

This is a MUST & a non-negotiable if you want to achieve balanced health and lifestyle. Remember an active lifestyle is all about finding activities that make healthy living FUN.

So enjoy your body with what it can do but remember to give it some LOVE in return.

Pilates, Yoga or a soak in the tub with Epsom salts are also great ways to recover.
